

2.11.2020

The purpose of this document is to form an Articulation Agreement between Concordia University Wisconsin (CUW) and Concordia University in Portland, Oregon (CUP) regarding the M.Ed. Curriculum and Instruction program. The Articulation Agreement would serve the interests of students currently enrolled in the Curriculum and Instruction program who are seeking to transfer and enroll in CUW's Master of Science in Education – Teaching and Learning.

Due to CUP's closure, which is scheduled for the end of April, 2020, CUW is willing to enter into an agreement with CUP students, beginning with the Fall Semester (July 1, 2020), who want to enroll in the CUW Graduate Teaching and Learning program with the following understanding and conditions:

W program.

- Students will be required to complete a research course and capstone project.
- Students will be required to take a short Blackboard and online training module as established by CUW's Office of Distance and Continuing Education (OCDE) department.
- All credits earned in the CUP M.Ed. programs will be eligible for transfer and application to the Teaching and Learning requirements. Only courses with B grade or better will be accepted.
- Students transferring from CUP to CUW to obtain a Master's degree will not be eligible for licensure endorsement through CUW.
- CUP M.Ed. Core Courses will be applied to the required courses of Teaching and Learning:

CUP M.Ed.. Course	Applied/Transferred to CUW T&L Course
EDGR 535 Theories of Teaching and Learning	EDG 821 Human Learning and Motivation
EDGR 502 Developing Character Through the Curriculum	EDG 807 Curriculum Leadership
EDGR 595 Community of Learners	EDG 828 Instructional Strategies for Effective Teaching
EDGR 602 Contemporary Educational Thought	EDG 887 Assessment for Learning

- CUP Research courses will be applied to the research and capstone requirements of CT